On and off issues with resident complaining and yelling at staff about meals being incorrect or not to her liking. RCM had already previously spoken with resident prior regarding this (See progress notes Jan 2024).

Staff are not suppose to be taking residents orders in room as this was considered a "courtesy" which had not been appreciated, hence was changed.

Resident refuses to come out to choose food to be saved as supper is during her "prayer time". As per previous agreement - Resident is suppose to come out of room between 1730-1745 choose her food herself and THE AMOUNT SHE WANTS to avoid any more concerns - if she does not come out, then sandwich is to be provided.

Reminded resident of this but does not remember previous conversation with RCM and refuses to come out to choose meals to be saved. Resident states "Next time, I will order food and Generations will have to pay for it."

Resident returned to room and settled; will monitor.

Asked resident to wait as writer will need to check timing of last dose as it is every 4 hours PRN.

Resident impatient and didn't want to wait. Began yelling at writer stating "First you don't want to give me blue one earlier, now you want to give me blue one! What's wrong with you people!" Resident agitated and turned around to return to his room.

Writer reapproached resident calmly in room; offered PRN hydromorphone 2mg for pain but resident now refusing stating "Take it back! I don't want to take anymore!"

Daughter previously warned that resident will be verbally aggressive towards writer this evening.

Resident very agitated with staff; will monitor for now and offer PRN prior to end of shift.

Note Text : Evening medications missing from blister pack.

Writer discussed this with resident; as per resident he did not take them - states he returned the medications to one of the day nurses? Not found anywhere in med cart. Spoke with one of the day nurses whois also working this evening; resident had returned hydromorphone 9mg this morning stating he already received it. LPN accidently removed it from Nov 20 blister but returned and taped it back inside Nov 20. Writer tried to explain situation to resident by showing him his blister packs; next meds start Nov 20 - Nov 19 all torn off already.

Unfortunately there is no way of knowing whether or not resident had taken them or not; explained to resident that we cannot give him another

Note Text : Resident was on his to supper when he started complaining to writer, stating, "I've been calling for an hour and no one came to help me." Writer explained to resident that at the time he started calling, all HCAs were providing showers and could not leave residents unattended in the shower room.

Writer informed colleagues that resident was upset. One coworker reported that she had already checked on the resident and provided him with juice and a warm blanket. Another coworker too reported that she went to checked on him too and told her why he's asking for juice because he didn't come for snack during the day. LPN notified.

Note Text : Resident agitated at bedtime.

Writer brought meds to bedroom along with BP machine and wound instructions. Resident looked at meds and said "You didn't bring my pain medication." Resident did not notify if he had pain prior so writer did not bring. Asked resident if he had pain, states "I always have pain at this time, give me hydromorphone and tylenol." Writer went to retrieve pain meds at care hub.

Writer returned with pain meds, writer gave meds with his juice mix - resident then asked writer to go get him an empty glass for water; writer left and retrieved him a new glass.

Writer returned for a 3rd time and resident states, "Open that drawer, those 2 creams are empty, go bring me new ones now." Writer awared resident that he cannot just keep sending writer back and forth. If he needs something to try and notify staff all at once. Also awared resident that if he has pain and wants pain meds at bedtime; he should notify nurse earlier so it can be brought together. Pain meds are as needed and writer cannot read his mind; must notify if he needs.

Resident also doesn't want writer to follow wound instructions. Raising his voice, demanding writer do what the hospital was doing (scrub with towel and warm water). Wound care was done as per wound management orders. (See wound note)

Prior to leaving room, writer awared resident that his behavior towards writer is unacceptable; advised resident to be kinder to staff.
